

Philad. May 22nd. 1843.

My dear friend,

The time for our anniversary is drawing near & I am looking forward with pleasure as among its events that of seeing you again. We must have a long talk about that Journal. - of which I hear the end nothing since yours except from Dr. Jackson & others through Mr. Nichols. That we may talk this & other matters over to the best advantage I beg that you will take up your quarters with me while you are in the city, coming as early as you can & staying as long. Is your paper ready?

Mr. Bacha writes with me in kindest regard to you & yours.

Very truly Yours A. Q. Bacha.

Dr. Torrey.
